

"are major nuclear powers. Those are not like a little bit. And they were angry. And the next phase was probably... you know what the 'n' word is, right?"

He then lauded his use of trade incentives as a peace-building defended his decision to accept a luxury jet worth hundreds of millions of dollars from the Qatari government to replace Air Force One, while also dismissing bipartisan criticism as a "radical left story".

Sarfraz Ahmed Bugti, while paying tribute to the Pakistan Air Force, said that it has established the fact that Islamabad is not an easy target for anyone as its armed forces and people were ready to protect the motherland.

Khadija Shah and other suspects out on bail attended the hearing inside the jail.

Senior lawyers Burhan Moazam Malik and Rana Mudassir Umar appeared on behalf of the suspects.

After being provided with the copies of the charge-sheet, the suspects were informed that they would be indicted on May 24 in the case.

Judge Gill of the ATC-1 later adjourned the proceedings.

Sarwar Road police had registered an FIR against the PTI leaders and workers on charges of attacking and vandalising the Jinnah House, which also serves as residence of corps commander, during the May 9 protests against the arrest of ex-premier Imran Khan in a graft case by National Accountability Bureau. Terrorism charge under Section 7 of the Anti-Terrorism Act 1997, and various other offences including waging or attempting to wage war or abetting waging of war against Pakistan, abetting mutiny, or attempting to seduce a soldier from his duty and rioting were added to the FIR.

Meanwhile, another ATC court extended the pre-arrest bail of former legislator Aliya Hamza Malik till May 26 and two sisters of Mr Khan in multiple cases of attacks on police till May 30.

Ms Malik appeared before the court on the expiry of her bail period while Aleema Khan and Uzma Khan sought one-time exemption from personal appearance. A lawyer informed the court that both sisters had to appear before a court of Rawalpindi.
